DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1, 2, 9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Chang et al (US 2004/0075774).

Claim 1:

Chang clearly discloses:

“means for requesting a guidance on a data broadcasting”, see the ABSTRACT last 3 lines, where guidance (like traffic, weather, and/or map information) is requesting as claimed, see also paragraph [0025] on page 2;

“means for receiving guidance information provided from an outside in response to the request”, see the ABSTRACT last 3 lines, where guidance information (like traffic, weather, and/or map information) is receiving as claimed, see also paragraph [0025] on page 2;

“and means for notifying the received guidance information”, see the ABSTRACT last 3 lines, the display device (where the received guidance information is displayed) is considered as the means for notifying as claimed.

Claim 2 is disclosed, see Fig. 1 item 42.

Claim 9 is disclosed, see Fig. 1 item 32.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 3-8, 10-28, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Chang et al (US 2004/0075774) in view of Takahisa (US 5,564,073).

Claim 3:

The claimed limitation “wherein the guidance information is extracted while the data broadcasting is displayed” is not explicitly disclosed by Chang. However, Chang discloses extraction of the guidance information (see the ABSTRACT last 3 lines), except Chang does not explicitly say that the extraction happens while data broadcasting is displayed; this exception is a notoriously well known technique in the art, as evidence see Takahisa at Fig. 3). An artisan would be motivated to modify Chang’s disclosure and implement this existing technique to arrive at the claimed invention, this technique is readily available to the designer and the implementation would result in a versatile system for on-demand information. Therefore, the claimed invention would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made.

Claims 4, 5 are disclosed, see Takahisa at Fig. 3 items 301-304.

Claim 6 is disclosed, see Chang at Fig. 1 items 36, 38, Takahisa at Fig. 3.

Claims 7, 8 are disclosed, see Takahisa at Fig. 3.

Claim 10 is disclosed, see Chang at Fig. 1 item 32, Takahisa at Fig. 3.

Claim 11 is rejected for the same reasons as claims 1, and 3.

Claims 12, 13, are disclosed, see Chang at the ABSTRACT last 3 lines.

Claims 14-16 are rejected for the same reasons as claims 6-8.

Claim 17 is rejected for the same reasons as claim 2.

Claims 18, 19, are rejected for the same reasons as claims 4, 5.

Claims 20, 21, are rejected for the same reasons as claims 9, 10.

Claim 22 is rejected for the same reasons as claim 11.

Claims 23, 24 are rejected for the same reasons as claims 12, 13.

Claim 25 is disclosed, see Takahisa at Fig. 3, see Chang at paragraph [0025] on page 2, paragraph [0012] on page 1.

Claim 26 is rejected for the same reasons as claim 17.

Claims 27, 28, are rejected for the same reasons as claims 18, 19.
